

Learn the Secrets to Fly Fishing

On your own, with a friend, or in a group.

Intense, yet relaxing, fly fishing was called “the contemplative man’s recreation” by the esteemed 15th century author and angler, Isaak Walton. Try your hand at casting a nearly weightless fly.

After having breakfast at one of Burrillville’s fine local diners, you’re ready for a morning of fly fishing instruction at Addieville East Farm, with its trout ponds, native trout stream, and bass lake on over 900 private acres.

Learn proper fly and line casting techniques that, when mastered, bring tremendous satisfaction and the greatest possibility of success.

Savory trout hors d’oeuvres set the stage for lunch. And what better way to satisfy the angler’s appetite than a flavorful New England clambake? Hours of underground steaming perfects this harvest of land and sea.

An entertaining and educational slide presentation about the Native Fisheries of Rhode Island gives a broader understanding of riverine health, conservation efforts, and ecological repair.

The afternoon winds down with cocktails and camaraderie before heading back to your lodging for the night.

www.addieville.com

This is a suggested itinerary. No recommendation is implied.

Please refer to VisitBurrillville.org for a complete list of attractions, recreational activities and dining spots. Be sure to explore the Burrillville Tourism Interactive Map and the Visit Burrillville Facebook Page.

For individual and group package rates, call
Blackstone Valley Tourism Council at 724-2200